SUPREME COURT MAKES DECIS-ION IN BATHTUB TRUST

Holds That There Can be No Monopoly in Unpatented Product of a Patented Machine Without Violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 18 .- In an epoch making decision today in the so-called bathtub trust case the supreme court of the United States laid down the broad principle that there can be no monopoly in unpatented product of a patented machine without violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Justice McKenna delivered the unanimous opinion of the court. In accordance with this doctrine the court struck down as illegal licensed agreement by which manufacturers of 85 per cent of the enameled iron companies in the United States were bound together in combination. The license agreement allowed the manufacturers to use a patent dredger but only on condition that they abide by an attached price list and would not sell to jobbers who bought from independents, were not to sell certain territory and would not sell "sec-

Officials of the partment of justices were highly elated over the decision, which it is claimed will have an important bearing upon sevwal investigations now under way by Attorney General Wickersham, as well as anti-trust suits already filed against the so-called moving picture 'trust," and the United Shoe Machine company. The decision is regarded as vitally important because of the government's claim that the patent license "agreement" plan was being adopted by many con-cerns as the result of the judicial ban upon the pure "trust" plea as exemplified in the case of the Standard Oil company of Ohio, the "holding company" plan as declared in the northern securities case the combination of a holding company and a manufacturing company as shown in the Standard Oil and Tobacco case. Justice McKenna in his opinion, declared that the effect of the agreements was to convert independent and competitive compantes into a combination subjected to rules and regulations.

"The trade practically was controlled from producer to consumer." said, "and the scheme was established by the cooperation of 85 per cent of manufacturers and their fidelity toward it not only by trade advantages but by what was practically a pecuniary penalty, not inaptly termed in the argument 'cash bail'.

Today's decision sustains the decree of the United States court for Maryland abrogating license agreements and paves the way for the retrial of the criminal suit against 'bathtub trust." the first trial of Attorney General Wickersham postponed the re-trial until the issues in the civil suit were decided by the supreme court.

Edward P. Grosvner, special as sistant to the attorney general who prosecuted the case and argued it in the supreme court, said tonight:

"On the argument in the supreme court the main reliance of the defendants was the decision in Dick vs. Henry called the mimeograph case, rendered by the supreme court last March. Then it was held that the owner of a patent on a mimeograph may compel the purchaser of the patented mimeograph to buy from him the patentee, the paper and ink which is to be used on the mimeograps, although of course, the paper and ink are not covered by "The decision of today refused to extend the doctrine of the Dick case to the unpatented product of a patented machine. The defendants in bathtub trust owning patents on the machines used in the manufacture of enameled ware attempted to fix prices and destroy competition in commerce in the unpatented. The economic effect of the prose cution by Attorney General Wickersham is interesting. The commit tee began operations in June 1910. The attorney general commenced proceedings July 1910. Since the combination was broken up prices of the product have fallen from 25 to 40 per cent, and many of the manufacturers are working their plants overtime.

New York, Nov. 18.-A man and woman stood in a small room of a raines law hotel in the Bronx tonight and deliberately shot down three detectives and two other men who were trying to place the pair under arrest. After nearly emptying the eleven chambers of a large automatic revolver, reinforced by shots from an ordinary revolver in the hands of his woman companion, and after probably fatally injuring four of those whom he shot down, the man shot and killed the woman and then put a bullet through his

The detectives were on the trail of the pair suspecting them of having been accomplices in a diamond robbery for which Sophie Beckendorf, a domestic, had been held for the grand jury today. The woman, who had lost the jewels, traced the girl to Vogel's house and told the detectives of her discovery. After a taxi-cab chase today the detectives learned that the Vogels had sought lodging at the Elsmere hotel, in the Bronx.

Central office Detective Martin F Fay, and Private Detective John Allen and Louis Girade, went to the hotel in search of their quarry late

Vogel opened the door of his room response to a summons and as Allen forced his way in declaring that the couple were under arrest, Vogel struck the detectie over the head with a blackjack and then shot him with a magazine pistol. ### BIG QUESTION UP TO LABOR FEDERATION

INDUSTRIAL UNIONISM PRO-POSED IN RESOLUTION PRE-SENTED MONDAY

Will be Debated Today by Specific Agreement--- Majority of Committee Opposed Plan-Labor Commission of New Jersey May Address--- Gompers Denies That He Was Pleased at Berger's Defeat.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 18 .- The question whether the American Federation of Labor is to adopt dustrial unionism in place of its present policy of recognizing, except in certain instances, the autonomy of trade or craft organizations will be tomorrow before the convention of that organization. Industrial Unionism.

Near the close of this afternoon's meeting the committee on education reported on a resolution for the adoption of industrial unionism. A majority of the committee voted for its rejection and a minority report favored industrial unionism where practicable and elsewhere close federation of trade unions for unified action

The resolution was introduced by John Mitchell, Duncan McDonald, John P. White, Frank J. Hayes, Wm. Green and J. H. Walker, of the United Mine Workers of America and is as follows:

"Whereas, the lines are being more closely drawn between capital and labor, and

"Whereas, the capitalists of the country have organized the National Manufacturers association and other large employers organizations, compact, cohensive bodies, having for their purpose the destruction of the trades union movement, and realizing that in unity there is strength; Therefore be it

To Combat Employers Organization. resolved, That in order to combat this compact and powerful organization of employers of labor, this convention adopts and endorses the plan of organization by industries instead of by crafts, which often divides the forces of labor, and that the officers of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to use every effort to bring this about and that they visit the different labor conventions and use their influence to mould senti-nent on these lines. Discussion Comes Today. The majority of the committee desired to substitute for the resolution the autonomy declaration of the Scranton convention of 1901, which favored retention of the policy of organizing and maintaining craft or, trade autonomy in so far as it was compatible with American organization of industry. By special order discussion of the resolution was set for tomorrow. An hour of the afternoon session was given over to an address by Lewis T. Bryant, commissioner of labor of New Jersey, on the "Protection of factory employes from accident and fire.'

Resolutions adopted at the afternoon session condemned the use of private detectives, says they were used to break strikes in West Virginia; favored the development of state universities along the Wisconsin extension plans, c mmended the movement for wider use of school buildings and urged their use for labor meetings; commended the work by the national conservation congress and approved the participation by American Federation of Labor officers in its proceedings.

Gompers Denies Report. Just before the close of the afternoon session President Gompers read a clipping from a newspaper in which he was quoted as expressing satisfaction at the recent defeat for re-election of Victor Berger, the Milwaukee Socialist congressman and said: "The report is absolutely untrue. I have not directly or indirectly said or intimated that I found satisfaction in the defeat of Mr. Berger."

The presence of Jesus today continues to judge the people. No one will leave the church tonight taken care of by District Attorney who has not been influenced in some way by the presentation of Jesus. They are drawn closer to him or else the heart has been made harder. The pastor made an earnest appeal for sinners to turn from their evil way and to accept Jesus Christ as their personal Savior. There was one confession.

Sunday Services.

All the services Sunday were searcely large enough in the evening to accommodate all. In morning the pastor directed his the people of the church could do in a revival meeting and of the great opportunity it afforded. The subject for the evening was "The Gospel." In the sermon he outlined the course of salvation and showed the fallacy of those who disbelieved in religion. A special meeting, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A was held Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church, with a sermon by Rev. Clyde Darsie. The service was in connection with the revival and there was a large attendance of men. Rev. Mr. Darsie preached a splendid sermon from the subject: A Grafter in Politics and a Coward in Religion."

MAY RIVAL THE PATRICK CASE

New York, Nov. 18.—The case of Burton W. Gibson, the lawyer charged with the murder of Mrs. Rosa. Menschik Szabo, his client, on Greenwood Lake on July 16, of this year, excellent sermons. Last night he took for his subject, "Jesus, the Great Separator," basing his remarks on the text, Matt. 3-15: trial promises to be of unusual in-"Whose fan is in his hand and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire." The speaker unquenchable fire." The speaker said that John the Baptist looked upon Jesus as a great divider. No person can complet by lignore the presence of Christ. local end of the prosecution will be Rogers of Orange county. Gibson is charged with having murdered Mrs. Szaba, his client, while rowing with her on Greenwood Lake, N. J., on July 16. Mrs. Szabo was the widow of Bela Szabo, a Hungarian of good family, who came to this country twenty years ago. On July 16 Mrs. Szabo went rowing with Miss Taylor sang, "God Will Take Gibson. They were near the center Care of You" and Miss Cora Graham of the lake and just within the New Gibson. They were near the center-York state line, when the boat apparently tipped over. Gibson asserted later that he and Mrs. Szabo were church, who is conducting a revival meeting at Mt. Sterling, was present and lead in prayer. Rev. Frank Gruenewald also took part in the services.

He said that soon after Mrs. Szabo's death and before largely attended, and the church was her friends knew that she was dead, a man, whom he identified as Gio son, called at his house to inquire whether there was any mail for Mrs. thought along the line of how much Szabo. Reichman went to Ernest Kirchlnopf, the acting Austro-Hungarian consul general in New York City and the latter detailed Dr. Franz Fischerauer, the vice consul, to investigate. Where Austrian subjects die in a foreign country without relatives there the representative of the government acts as administrator of the estate. As soon as Mrs. Szabo's death was established the consulate found that she had left an estate of more than $10,000 and that Gibson had filed a will maki a him executor. It was also found that on Politics and a Coward July 21 a woman posing as the dead Special music was Mrs. Menchik had appeared before given by a male quartet composed Donald Lyon, a Brooklyn notary, and of J. Steps were at once taken by the consulate to stop Gibson from disposing of the estate, but not before $7,100 had disappeared and for which he has not yet accounted. Suit was brought to have him ousted as executor of the will. On September 12 the body of Mrs. Szabo was exhumed. An autopsy resulted in a finding that Mrs. Szabo was not drowned, but strangled to death. Gibson was arrested in his office in New York and taken to Middletown, N. Y., and afterward placed in the county jail at Goshen.

An investigation of the past record of Gibson by the Austrian consulate has brought to light the interesting fact that there have occurred four mysterious deaths by violence or aceldent in connection of cases in which Gibson figured as attorney. Mrs. Alice D. Minnan, daughter of an aged women whose property Gibson handled, was murdered at her home in the Bronx in 1906. Gioson was held by the coroner but the case was afterward dt pped. Michael Snippo, a witness against Gibson in the Kinnan case, was found drownel in Pelhan creek two years later. George I. Malcolm, a Wall street broke: and nephew of Mrs. Kinnan's mother, who had sued Gibson for certain property of the estate, was drowned in Long Island sound under mysterious circumstances. Rice O'Neill, a British subject, who had won a $10,000 damage suit and whose affairs Gibson managed, disappeared and no trace of him has ever been found. Records have also been unearthed which throw an extremely unfavorable light upon Gibson's honesty in dealing with some

"RIVER PIRATES"

CHICAGOAN SLAIN BY

Launch Near Beardstown and Hurled Overboard.

Another chapter in the river tragedy at Beardstown reported last Friday morning appeared in the Chicago Tribune yesterday when the statement was made that William More, the Chicagoan thought to have drowned, was murdered. The report gives robbery as the motive and that More a few hours prior to his death had with him on the launch, three river men, whom he had picked up along the route, and had befriended. The report as is published in the Tribune reads:

"River 'pirates' on the Illinois river repaid the kindness of a young Chicage man with death. For $40a fortune among the 'beach combers' -these modern pirates killed William F. More, on his gasoline launch threw the body overboard, and let the launch float down the river.

"The first report on Friday of the death of More, who lived at 33 S. Aberdeen street, stated that he was killed by floating over the dam near Beardstown, Ill.

"Further information gathered by Dr. D. L. Hyde, a cousin, 3941 Irving Park boulevard, and Harry Herdman with whom More lived, developed the fact that More was murdered. About $40 he carried with him was missing when the body was taken from the river at Beardstown.

When traveling More had arranged his machinery so the water propeller of the launch and the air propeller of the hydroaeroplane operated at the same time, giving the craft the same time, giving the craft greater speed. The lockkeeper said he was awakened at about 5:13'0 o'clock the same morning by cries of distress. The two boats, unmanned, were coming down the river.

The position of the boats was reversed. The launch was lagging behind and the hydro-aeroplane floated ahead. Impressive Ceremonies Took Place Sunday at Bethel A. M. E. Church.

The laying of the cornerstone of the church building of the Bethel A. M. E. church Sunday was an event of great interest and attracted a large concourse of people not only of African descent but also of others as well and all were deeply interested in the ceremonies.

An impressive sight was when large line of the International Order Twelve, Knights and Daughters of Tabor, formed at a house South Church street and marched in solemn procession with their emblems to the church where seats were duly assigned them in places of

The program as announced in the Journal was carried out very nearly as printed, a few necessary exceptions being made.

The music by the choir of Bethel church was very fine and was much enjoyed by all present.

The opening prayer was by Rev. The faithful pastor, Rev. George T. Shaw, presided and said in opening the ceremonies out of doors but the state of atmosphere-caused us to change it to the inside as safer and we are serving God in the erection of this building we proceed trusting in Him to guide and direct us a right. Although there is no law laid down in the scriptures to guide us on such an occasion, we nevertheless believe that we are true to our vows when we prepare for the worship of God a comely house, whose cornerstone we lay today. The noble order which will serve us today is one of the strongest organizations among the negro race. Both white and colored people have labored for the development of the negro race and now there are in the various colored churches of the land three million communicants. There are 25,000 church buildings, 35,200 ministers, while more than 8 per cent of the property of the race is in the church buildings. The church property represents $56,000,000 and over. There are 137 negro institutions of learning. Over $100,000 is invested in mission enterprises; over $50,000 is devoted to home missions and much more to foreign missions. This work is begun in the name of the Christ whom we serve. We thank you all for your presence here today and we earnestly hope that all will work for the uplift of the color- but lives in town. Chas. S. Goltra

As S. W. Nichols was obliged to leave to keep an engagement at a distant point in the country, he was permitted to speak next. He said that there were but very few left of those with the school when he first took charge of it some years after it had been organized, Rev. David King being his immediate predeces-For almost 48 years he had been connected with the school; 28 as superintendent, and when he resigned the resignation was accepted on condition that he review the lesons each quarter which he had been doing for almost twenty years. referred with pain to the minister who had begun the work on the church and had then gone off and left the people with a house made worse than before and a debt of a thousand dollars on its and he was sure Brother Shaw would not play such a sneak game as that. The solemn ceremonies were then carried out according to the program published and all present numbering several hundred, witnessed the work begun and carried through by the gallant order already mentioned above. The church will now go to work to add to its good name and a good beginning has been made. good beginning has been made.

Declare War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation," has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Two auto drivers had a narrow escape Sunday morning. They were coming toward each other on East State street, both intending to turn the corner to go down South West Baptist church, and a pleasant man street. One driver hit a trolley wire pole squarely, breaking one of the lamps to the machine.

time boy acquaintances. At the time I came here to live, or about then, there were the following named among my associates acquaintances at the old west district school: Maurice Stevenson. John A. Bancroft, Chas. M. Eames, Edward B. Lathrop, Eli B. Hamilton, L. Beecher Glover, Frank B. Mitchell John A. Ayers, Henry S. Stavenson, Charles S. Goltra, and James M. Terry. Some of us generally came up street from school togethr, as all lived west of the school house, except Mitchell. Newton Bateman and Newton Bateman and Robt. M. Tunnell were principals in those days; Edward P. Kiroy came in the fall of 1860.

It was away back in December, 1863, one terrible cold day, that we laid the boy Maurice Stevenson in the East cemetery. John A. Bancroft grew up and was married, and he passed on about 1875. Chas. M. Eames grew to manhood, married and was the father of four children, took part in church and politics, and became editor and proprietor of the Journal. He sold this out and went to Fort Scott, Kansas, where he died in 1886, I think. Ed. Lathrop grew riore comfortable. Believing that up, married twice, became a banker in Chicago, and went the way of all the earth, about five or six years

And now his special church and social associate, Eli Hamilton has gone to meet him. Then there was Beecher Glover, son of the Rev. Dr. L. M. Glover, longtime pastor of the First Presbyterian churca, he went to Chicago, married, and engaged in newspaper and managerial work. Our mutual friend Frank B. Mitchell, son of President B. Mitchell of the old Female academy, was the first local editor of the Journal-as I was a local later on, and Glover and Eames were editors of it-Mitchell went to Missouri, became a minister of the Presbyterian church, south, and is preaching at Keytesville, over on the Wabash railway. John A. Ayers stayed here, married and became the father of two boys and two girls, engaged in banking, became president of the Ayers National bank and prominent in church, Illinois college and politics. Henry S. Stevenson served in the civil war, married and became the father of two boys and two girls, went to Freeport for some years, then returned here to a farm west of town, which he still runs went to Crawfordsville, Ind., married and engaged successfully in business there. He is still one of the most active of "the bunch" and has lately returned from a tour in the old world. James M. Terry served in the 10th Illinois volunteers, married a daughter of Daniel W. Ayers, by whom he had several children, and knew about its history. Well, here is some of it.

The house stands at the northeast corner of College avenue and S. Prairie street, and the lot is "lot 50 of Chandler's addition to Jacksonville." I could not find who got the land from the government, but 'Jacob Strawn sold a part of the southeast section 20-15-10, to Ero Chandler, Nov. 30, 1829. Chandler transferred a part of the west half of the west half of the southeast of section 20-15-10 Gov. Joseph Duncan, June 5, 1835. Dr. Chandler laid off his addition, from Church street to Diamond alley, and from State street to Grove street. Gov. Duncan transferred lots 50 and 51 to Ensley T. Goudy, April 18,1839. Upon lot fifty was a new, pretty little yellow brick house. Mr. Goudy was married July 1, 1840, to Miss Catherine McMackin, and they entered the "yellow cottage" on July 3, 1840, making it their home until January 5, 1842, when they went to Springfield to live their few remaining years. Mr. Goudy deeded the place to Richard H. Nelson, Nov. 10, 1842 and Nelson deeded to John W. Goltra, Feb. 14, 1843. I think that was always Mr. Goltra's home, until his death, about 1883. He first married Miss Mary Ann Becraft, and their children were Judson, deceased; Mattie F. Hook; Mary who married Willard C. French and moved away, and Emma. Emma be came the wife of James Reynolds. and after his death, she became the Cough Remedy most excellent, wife of Samuel T. Anderson. Mr Goltra, after the death of his first wife, again married. This wife was

Miss Eunice Butts, by whom he had two daughters, Mabel and Corinne. John W. Goltra was one of the best citizens Jacksonville has had. He was an office bearer in the First to meet. For years he carried on the hat business at the south west corner of the public square, and was succeeded by his son Judson, where Frank Byrns now is. For many years Mr. Goltra was in partnership with Mr. Henry Stryker, Sr., another estimable citizen. Both were natives of New Jersey

After Mr. Goltra's death his widow built a new house on lot 51, and lot 50 and the house on it was sold to Edward J. King, son of Joseph O. King, by Mattie F. Hook et al. Mrs. Hook was the wife of Marcus

It should have been said before that, in 1858, Mr. Goltra added the darger, two story part to his house, making it one of the most attractive houses in town; and there the family dispensed a pleasing hospitality. Edward J. King was connected with the old Jacksonville Gas company, and was a prominent young business man at the time of his death, about 1890. He married Miss Ida V. Sawyer, daughter of Dr. C. K. Sawyer, and they had one son, Murray, and several daughters. Mrs. King removed to Chicago, after her

And the yard is fined on two sides with locust trees, and it is intended to ornament the yard with more trees. The situation is high and commanding, and the scenery beautiful."

Locust trees were the kind first planted in the early days. The view to the college and to the brook beyond, on the south was then scarcely broken by any trees or houses. Anyone who has seen the primitive prairie knows that it was a scene of beauty. Ensley Moore.

Business Men Will Make Big Effort to Reach 400 Membership Mark— Workers are Greatly Needed—Mr. Jeffries Loyal to Jacksonville.

That the membership campaign inaugurated by the Business Men's association is making an impression that is having a far reaching effect is shown in a letter received by Secretary Fritchey yesterday. The let-

Letter From Mr. Jeffries. Hutchinson, Kans., November 15, 1912.

Mr. Paul Fritchey, Secretary, Jacksonville, Ill., My Dear Secretary:

It does my heart good to see the splendid revival of booster spirit you are creating. May success crown your efforts to build a big and ef ficient organization for Jacksonville. I am a bit disappointed that no mention is made by your speakers of the fine musical organization which is a monument to 25 years struggling to build up the good old town, which I still love dearly. The business interests could have made possible for Jacksonville what the Commercial club is doing musically for Hutchinson. I truly hope they will some day and I want to be director of the band that shall be recognized as a business asset of Jacksonville. If you have trouble in getting your four hundred members, wire me and I will join Wishing you success, I am,

Yours very truly, C. C. Jeffries. The above is a lesson in patriotism

that would be well to study carefully. Here is a man who no longer makes Jacksonville his home, his business and financial interests are centered far from here but his patriotism for Jacksonville and his desire to see it go ahead is so great that he is willing to aid in sustaining an organization to do things for Jacksonville.

Today will see the wind up of the membership campaign. As Campaign Manager Bender is obliged to leave this evening for Aurora, it is to be hoped that every business man (a) In Autumn, Franz; (b) in the city will make an effort to get away from his business for at least two hours and lend their support to reach the 400 mark. It is a pretty good thing to consider that "there are times when a business excuse may cost dearly" and a "put off" tomorrow will, in the long run, amount to a good deal more than the sacrifice of a little time and effort in a

> This is the last call. If the required 400 are not secured business men who have not helped are responsible for the failure and not those who have gone out and loyally given the best they had to give in time, effort and money.
